PHILOSOPHY

I believe in a teamwork approach to care in which the patients and physician work together to achieve the best possible outcomes.

Timothy J. Williams, MD, JD, continued

Dr. Williams' primary practice is limited to surgery of the hip, knee and shoulder.

The surgeons at the Center for Hip & Knee Surgery perform more than 2,500 knee, hip and shoulder replacements each year.

They have received numerous honors, including membership in The Knee Society, The Hip Society, American Association of Hip and Knee Surgeons and Board of Directors and Program Committee positions in these organizations. The practice has published more than 400 articles related to the hip and knee in medical journals.

The Center has been honored By Healthgrades, an independent health ratings organization, as an America's 100 Best Hospital for Total Joint Replacement in 2015.
