The Event

The Arthritis Foundation's Jingle Bell Run/Walk for Arthritis raises awareness of America's leading cause of disability, while raising desperately needed funds for research, health education and government advocacy to improve the lives of people with arthritis.

As the nation's largest holiday run/walk event, the Arthritis Foundation's Jingle Bell Run/Walk for Arthritis offers a 10K or 5K-timed run, a 5K fun walk and children's Santa Chase with activities for the entire family. Participants tie jingle bells to their shoelaces, don festive holiday costumes and join friends and neighbors in support of the Arthritis Foundation's mission to prevent, control and cure arthritis and related diseases. Participants can run or walk in honor of a friend or family member with arthritis, or to show that they are taking control of their arthritis.

When is the Jingle Bell Run/Walk for Arthritis?

December 8, 2012, Bankers Life Fieldhouse

Why Run or Walk?

The prevalence of arthritis or chronic joint symptoms is now surging, affecting 1.4 million adults and 6,400 children in Indiana alone. This event is a fun and effective way to support the Arthritis Foundation in the prevention, control and cure of arthritis and related diseases.

The Runners and Walkers

Approximately 3,500 runners and walkers run individually or in teams of four or more each year to help raise money to support critical arthritis research, health education and government advocacy programs to help people take greater control of arthritis.

The Honoree

The 24th Annual Indianapolis Jingle Bell Run will honor Ashley Frankel, an eight-year-old who has had Juvenile Rheumatoid Arthritis since before she was two.
