

2012 Chicago Arthritis Walk
Medical Honorary
Calvin R. Brown Jr., M.D.

Calvin R. Brown Jr., M.D. is Professor of Medicine in the Feinberg School of Medicine of Northwestern University in Chicago. He is a Fellow of the American College of Rheumatology and the American College of Physicians, and is past president of the Chicago Rheumatism Society. His research has been published in such journals as Arthritis and Rheumatism and The Journal of Rheumatology. He is author of several textbook chapters dealing with arthritis and allied conditions. He is a member of the Council of the Association of Specialty Professors, and The American College of Rheumatology Committee on Workforce and Training.

Dr. Brown received his medical degree from Wayne State University. He completed his internship and residency at Northwestern Memorial Hospital. He completed fellowships in rheumatology at the University of Michigan and sports medicine at Rush University Medical Center.

About the Arthritis Foundation

The Arthritis Foundation (www.arthritis.org) is committed to raising awareness and reducing the unacceptable impact of arthritis, which strikes one in every five adults and 300,000 children, and is the nation's leading cause of disability. To conquer this painful, debilitating disease, we support education, research, advocacy and other vital programs and services.